OVERVIEW

Name: FUTURE BASICS COMPANY LIMITED

Company Registration No: 138-874-397

DUNS Number: 85-177-5300

Established: 3rd March 2019

Future Basics Ltd was founded as a response to the widely un-acknowledged and un-attended need for digitization in the surrounding society at both a corporate, business and community level. Future Basics believes the future is digital, and we aim to be part of the frontliners that lead our community into this digital future.

Through innovation and technology, we are implementing the concept of digitization in various parts of the society, which in turn improves local business efficiency and the ease of life for our community members.

Learning & Qualification For All

an online learning platform that is giving everyone access to easy learning & qualification

future
basics

NAKWALIFY is an online learning platform that can accommodate remote and affordable learning. Any organization or second party can create written, audio or visual modules that are specifically aimed at their target audience and upload them onto the platform. These modules can then be accessed and completed by target beneficiaries anywhere via the internet. Upon completion, the platform can even provide users with certificates that are officially certified by their respective organization.

This platform aims to increase and ease the access to knowledge, education and certification across the local community, which in-turn will increase job qualification rates within the community.
